REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For State Treasurer,
THOMAS S. RIDGWAY,
OF Gallatin.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction,
WILLIAM B. POWELL,
OF Kane.

For Congress, 11th District,
JOSEPH G. CANNON,
OF Douglas.

Hon. JOSEPH G. CANNON will deliver the annual address at the Hoopes-ton fair, on Wednesday, September 2.

The editor of the Magnet and Tribune begs leave to inform the REPUBLICAN that the editor of the Magnet and Tribune is not the same person as the editor of the Republican. The editor of the Magnet and Tribune is not the same person as the editor of the Republican. The editor of the Magnet and Tribune is not the same person as the editor of the Republican.

All we have to say is that it took an awful long time to get your denial before the public. We have been reminding you of the charge for over a week, and this is the first time you have ever mentioned the matter. What grieves us most, however, is the fact that your denial makes the editor of the Champaign Times a most terrible liar.

L. S. Since writing the above we have learned that there are two living witnesses who heard Mr. A. H. Corman (whether he is the "editor" of the Consolidation or not) make use of the words attributed to him, with reference to Mr. Pickrell's want of "calibre." One of these witnesses, "We are authorized to say," is ready to make affidavit to the fact. Maybe the editor of the Champaign Times is not so much of a liar after all.

So far only sixteen negroes have been "chucked into eternity"—as the careless yeomen put it—in that little Tennessee affair. No white man seems to have been hurt. It was therefore a war of races. The thing originated in a fuss about fifty cents, postal currency. Some negro made an impudic speech, and, as a matter of course, "the great, proud, masterful Caucasian White Race," as Caleb Cushing calls it, was compelled to defend itself by chucking sundry dangerous but unarmed blacks into eternity. At latest advices troops were pointing in from all quarters, and not an armed negro could be found. And Jeddie shouts to the true Democrats, White Men to the Front!

The report of the Bureau of Statistics for the seven months ending July 31, shows a great diminution in the imports from Great Britain as compared with the commerce of last year for the same period. Of twenty-six articles mentioned, only worsted stuffs and carpets exceed in quantity the importations of last year. In the article of cotton goods there was a falling off of nearly five million yards. Railroad iron tumbles from 131,393 to 72,632 tons; unmanufactured copper drops from 43,891 cwt. in 1873 to 721 cwt. in 1874. The reduction is astonishing, and of course tells heavily against the nation's exchequer in the form of duties lost. But, of course, if our people grow economical, or choose to manufacture those goods which formerly came from Great Britain, they have no right to complain if our Minister of Finance fails to make both ends meet.

SOLIMON MORITZ, who helped Flora Harding to her ruin, was a married man. He did not come to her whoring of love and marriage. He was a business man who dealt in clothing and had little time or taste for philosophy and advanced reform. Flora Harding herself was a woman of unusual mental powers. She wrote, and wrote with a vigor uncommon in a female writer of her age. There was no indication of a sickly sentimentality in her that might be played upon by a skillful hand, or lose itself in the counterpane in another. She was a handsome, brilliant and dashing woman. She had the pride of strength and sought to conquer. She enjoyed walking along the perilous edge of propriety if it gave her an opportunity to exercise her power. She permitted Moritz to approach her, and she brought him to his knees. He arose and "abbed her to the heart, and she fell as many a strong, ambitious woman has fallen before, herself conquered by the weakness she had conquered. There are thousands of beautiful and attractive women all over the country doing just what she did, and commencing by doing. We call it by the gentle name of flirting. "There are plenty of women constantly indulging in this dangerous pastime, forgetting the duty they owe to their maidenhood, or, if they are matrons, to their husbands and their children, and forgetting what the victims of their flirtation and the conquerors of their virtue owe to their wives. God help them that they may not reach the fearful gulf that entombed poor Flora Harding"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

LETTER FROM FRANK WOOD.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—As we promised to take your readers to San Francisco, we will now proceed to do so.

As we leave San Jose for San Francisco, we pass through Alameda county, which is noted for its rich and fertile soil, which seems especially adapted to the cultivation of all kinds of vegetables, the size of which are truly marvelous. Carrots grow three feet long and weigh thirty-five pounds, cabbages, seventy-five pounds, onions, five pounds, watermelons, eighty-five pounds, pumpkins grow too large to weigh; pears, three-and-a-half pounds, beets, two hundred pounds. Those weights have been given me as being reliable. All kinds of grain yields are enormous—wheat as high as eighty bushels per acre.

We pass several small towns before we reach Oakland. What Brooklyn, N. Y., is to New York city, so is Oakland to the city of San Francisco. It is situated in an extensive grove of evergreen oaks, with orchards, parks, gardens and vineyards on every side. Amidst this forest of perpetual green can be seen, peeping out here and there, the magnificent villa of the nabob, the substantial residence of the wealthy merchant, and the neat cottage of the well-to-do mechanic, who have been attracted here by the grand scenery, mild climate and quiet surroundings. Here is located the State asylum for the deaf, dumb and blind—a massive three-story building.

Down the pier races the train, directly out into the bay, 24 miles, to the ferry boat which takes us over the waters, three miles, to the city of San Francisco, a nice little city of 200,000 inhabitants,—but too far from Decatur to ever do much good. 25,000 of the population are long tailed Chinamen.

The market here is a grand sight. No other country can produce fruit in such profusion and perfection. The principal attractions here to the stranger are the fine churches and places of amusement, such as the California Theater, the Alhambra, Metropolitan, and the Opera House, and two Chinese theaters.

Great places of resort are the parks, of which there are the Plaza, Washington, Union, Columbia, Labos, Hamilton, Buena Vista, Yerba Buena and Golden Gate, the latter containing 1100 acres.

They have just completed the Mechanics' Institute, said to be the largest in the world, covering one whole block.

We next come to the Woodward Gardens, which are owned by R. B. Woodward, a gentleman of enterprise and taste, who, to surround and beautify his private residence, situated near the center of his grounds, searched both the continents of America and Europe to procure every variety of ornamental trees, exotics, indigenous plants, or articles of virtue and value. For us to attempt to describe these beautiful grounds, and do the subject justice, were we able, would take more space than you would allow. They must be seen to be appreciated. We find in the art gallery rare paintings and statuary. In the zoological department a great variety of wild animals, including the California lion, and a mammoth grizzly bear weighing 1600 pounds, sea lions, and a great variety of California birds. In these grounds are towering evergreen trees, and crystal lakes, oriental arbors, beautiful statuary, delightful nooks and shady retreats, with creeping vines, fragrant flowers, sparkling fountains, sweet music, and, above all, the glorious California sky.

From here I expect, after coasting awhile, to visit the big trees, of which I will give you a full description. Respectfully yours,

F. L. Wood.

The Cincinnati Commercial says: "There will soon be important elections in the Eastern and Western States, including New York and Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The Republican party will have no difficulty in carrying all the most powerful States if it be understood that there are to be riots between the whites and blacks of the South." To which the Pittsburg Commercial adds, "that the surest and most effective way of preventing disturbances between the races in that section, is for the Republicans of the North to turn the contests of this fall into signal and decisive victories."

Since the Richmond Enquirer wants "a public-head President" for the next term, the St. Joseph Herald wisely observes, "we don't see any chance for this wish to be gratified so long as the Democratic party is unable to elect a candidate."

THE TENNESSEE RIOTS.

KANSAS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

THE FEELING AT SPRINGFIELD.

Jo. Ledlie Disgusted.

Brigham and Ann Eliza Young.

Distressing Case of Drowning.

SPRINGFIELD, August 27.—This city, to-day, has resumed its normal condition of quietude. The loss of the political bums and sealwags who have been lying around loose for the last three days, left on the noon train, and the dead and wounded in the political battle just fought are buried or sent to the hospital.

The convention held yesterday adjourned without giving itself a name, and it will go down to posterity (if it goes down at all) with the cognomen of the what is it? It has no name, and time will prove it has but few followers. That there is intense dissatisfaction among a large number of Democrats who were here, no one can deny; they feel chagrined that they, or rather the convention, was led by the nose between the thumb of Hosing and the finger of John M. Palmer—men above all others of the past the most bitter and unrelenting foes of the Democratic party. The feeling of mortification and disappointment is not confined to a few, but the ballot box this fall, when the hopes of the great "What is it?" party will be crushed by the will of the people, and Hosing will learn that the free people of Illinois are not crawling sheep-ants to an aspiring demagogue, and John M. Palmer will learn that his influence—once so powerful—has been wasted in his running after strange gods.

In a conversation with the now famous Jo. Ledlie, this morning, he informed your correspondent that the Bourbon Convention had played out, that all but a very few of the Democrats here yesterday had sold out to Hosing and Palmer. But all that is left of that noble organization, said he, you count on your fingers, and I, Jo. Ledlie, the humblest of them all, in my three score and ten years, stand as a sentinel on the tower left, and will, until time is no more, sound the bugle note of alarm. No, no, Joe Ledlie cannot, will not wear the yoke of Hosing.

The State Board of Equalization are busily engaged in their arduous work of equalizing the various assessments of the State. This is no small job, but the work is divided among various committees and is progressing satisfactorily. The board has a short session each morning and then adjourns for work in committee.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. English in the board this morning: Whereas, The following railroad companies: Carbonado and Shawnee, Grand Tower and Carbonado, Michigan Central, Joliet and Northern Indiana, East St. Louis and Carondelet, and the Orion and Minersville, having been repeatedly requested, have refused to furnish the schedule required of them in sections 41 and 42, and revenue law,

Resolved, That the Attorney-General of this State be requested to commence suit against said railroad companies, and any other railroad companies that may be delinquent in making returns.

On motion of Mr. McMartens, the resolution was laid on the table until to-morrow, when it will come up for action by the board.

There is a strong desire on the part of the members to hurry their work forward as fast as possible, but not at the sacrifice of its thoroughness. The board will be in session two or three weeks longer.

SANDUSKY, O., August 27.—Mrs. Adams, wife of G. A. Adams, of the Cleveland Commercial Review, was drowned at Put in Bay this morning about 1 o'clock. A party, including her husband, were rowing in small boats, Mrs. Adams being with Henry Beebe, of the Beebe House, and behind the boat containing her husband. They undertook to change positions, and upset the boat. After being in the water at least an hour, their cries brought assistance, but Mrs. Adams was dead when they reached land. Dr. Dunlap, of Springfield, was called, but failed to restore her. Her remains were taken to Cleveland to-day. The calamity has cast a gloom over the whole island.

MEMPHIS, August 27.—There is an intense feeling of indignation here against the murderers of the negro prisoners at Trenton. The press of the city denounces them for their cowardly butchery. The Bluff City battalion of State Guards tendered their services to the Governor to bring them to punishment.

Dispatches from Humboldt report all quiet to-night, but the negroes are much alarmed.

NASHVILLE, August 27.—2 p. m.—

The Banner's Humboldt special, this afternoon says the party who were scouring the country last night and yesterday afternoon, have returned, as no negroes could be found, and it is thought now that none were under arms yesterday at all. Everything is now quiet, and citizens here are very indignant at the course taken by the mob at Trenton Tuesday night.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 27.—Parties from Owen county report that Mr. Russell Walker and party started this morning to meet Gen. Murray and the United States troops at Gratz, where they propose to surrender. Russell is willing to come to trial when assured that he will not be molested by the Smoot party.

A special dispatch to the Courier-Journal from Owen, states that arrangements for a final settlement of the feud in Owen are understood to be complete. Smoot will give himself up to the authorities when assured of protection. The settlement, as far as pursuit is concerned, is looked for at any time.

Judge McNama and the Commonwealth Attorney are here, and will begin a called term of the circuit court on the 5th of September, continuing as long as there are any parties to prosecute.

TOPEKA, KAN., Aug. 27.—The Republican State Convention closed its labors and adjourned sine die at 12 o'clock to-day. The ticket is regarded as a strong one, and is well distributed throughout the State. Its election is conceded by every sane man in the State. The only question is how big shall the majority be. The threatened bolt has shrunk to very small proportions, and will, as time goes on, grow beautifully less.

In accordance with the almost unanimous request of the convention, the Governor will to-morrow issue his proclamation, convening the Legislature in extra session, to take action looking to the relief of the new settlers on the frontier whose entire crops have been consumed by grasshoppers.

The following is the ticket renominated: Governor, Thos. A. Osborn, Lieut. Governor, M. J. Salter, Secretary of State, Thomas Cavanaugh, Treasurer, Samuel Lippin, Superintendent of Public Instruction, John Frazier, Attorney General, A. M. F. Randolph, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, M. A. Valentine.

VINEYARD GROVE, Mass., Aug. 27.—President Grant and party arrived here to-day, and were received at Vineyard Highlands wharf in an elegantly decorated horse car, which conveyed him to Bishop Havens' cottage. He was there welcomed to the camp-ground by Rev. M. J. Talbot, president of the Camp Meeting Association. The President replied "Thank you, sir."

He was soon after conducted to the Tabernacle and introduced to an immense assemblage of people, who cheered loudly.

The introduction of Vice President Wilson, Secretary Belknap, Postmaster General Jewell and Governor Talbot followed, and after the singing by the congregation of "My Country, 'tis of thee," the distinguished guests retired. The President, on the way here, was received with salutes at Falmouth and Wood's Hole.

NEW YORK, August 27.—Henry C. Bowen to-day instituted proceedings in a libel suit against the Brooklyn Eagle, the damages are laid at $100,000. The complaint is based upon an interview published in the Eagle, purporting to have taken place between Bowen and an Eagle reporter, which Bowen claims to be false in every particular, and upon three editorials following the publication of the same.

The editor of the Argus was to-day arrested for libel at the instance of Henry C. Bowen and his sons, for the publication of an alleged interview with Henry M. Smith. Barnes was released on his own recognizance to appear to-morrow and make arrangements for bail.

GALVESTON, Tex., August 27.—The Naves, of San Antonio, says the Kiowas and Comanches attacked Gen. Davidson at 12 o'clock on the 23d and endeavored to obtain possession of the agency building at the Wichita agency, forty miles from Fort Sill. The Indians were defeated the first day and renewed the attack the following morning, but were again repulsed. The attacking Indians are those who have been raiding and are now trying to return to the agency. Gen. McKenzie's expedition left Fort Concha on the 23d inst.

[From the Illinois State Journal.]

THE nomination of Etter, after Gore had been ignominiously kicked out by the Convention, was a surprise to everybody. But Etter's acceptance of the nomination will surprise nobody—who knows Etter.

For whom will Etter vote for Treasurer? For Carroll? or for Gore? He promised the farmers that he would for Gore. But Hosing says that he had a talk with Etter, and Etter intends to vote for Carroll. Etter, how is this?

The Democratic Convention wouldn't nominate Gore for State Treasurer yesterday, out of respect to the prejudices of the anti Court House people in Macoupin, and then made Thaddeus L. Loomis, the chief of the Court House Ring, under whose administration as County Judge the Court House was built, one of the Vice Presidents of the Convention. Here is consistency for you.

Etter's diary was accidentally dropped by him in the corridor of the Leiland Hotel. One of the colored waiters brought it to our office, and Mr. Etter can have it by calling and proving property, without extra charge for this notice. We gather, from an examination of the document, that, on Sundays, Mr. Etter is a Republican, on Mondays, a Liberal, on Tuesdays, a Granger, and on Wednesdays, a Benton Democrat.

TEMPERANCE MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Fair Attendance—Thrilling Address by Elder Tyler.

The unfavorable state of the weather and the muddy condition of the walks, had the effect to reduce the attendance at the temperance meeting last evening, much below what it would have been had the walking been good. Notwithstanding all the drawbacks, however, the popularity of the lecturer drew together a fair house.

About 8 o'clock Elder Haynes called the meeting to order, and prayer was offered by Mr. Thomas Hays. At the conclusion of the prayer, the chairman introduced Elder B. B. Tyler, of Kentucky, as the speaker of the evening.

Mr. T. remarked that he was not a temperance lecturer, and they must regard him as a mere amateur in the business. He said he had just closed an exciting campaign in Kentucky, during which he had spoken frequently in behalf of the cause of temperance. He left home for rest, and visited northern Ohio, where he found the people all alive upon the same subject, and soon found himself addressing them in halls, in churches, and in the open air. Since his arrival here he had been importuned to speak and had consented. He was not here to abuse the drinker or the seller of liquor or anybody else. Though any present who were guilty might, perhaps, think his remarks personal, he should deal with facts. The Bible, he said, breathed fearful anathemas against the drunkard and the drunkard maker, and he would say let God's word stand. Were he to make an exhaustive temperance speech he would treat of its moral, physical and legal phases, but he did not propose to do this, but would consider a few facts, first as to what alcohol had done. He referred to the depredations of the Indians; of the effort to bring them to justice, when all the Indians in America had not destroyed half as many lives as the liquor business. Nine tenths of all the murders are occasioned by whiskey. Three-fourths of all crimes are caused by the same liquor. He referred to the cry that is raised, that to restrict or prohibit the liquor traffic was interfering with the liberties of men, it being claimed that every man had a right to choose his own business. He referred to the fact of articles of food being put under ban when the public health required it, and nobody pretended to say that was wrong. In cholera seasons the sale of fruits and vegetables was often prohibited in cities. The right to prohibit the sale of liquor by law, he said, was conceded in the license system. If it was right to prohibit one man it was right to prohibit any and all. He was opposed to license because it created a monopoly out of which men got rich, and were enabled to ride in fine carriages, wear fine clothes, and spread sumptuous tables. He called upon those who voted for license to consider the character of the company they were acting with. He declared that every inmate and patron of houses of prostitution, every gambler, every thief, every burglar, and every murderer in the land is for license, and all who vote for it or favor it, are acting these corrupt and wicked men.

He remarked that he would be here until Wednesday of next week, and he would invite the friends of the license system to offer any arguments they chose to sustain license, and he would show that the same arguments if good to sustain the license system, would sustain it in its application to prostitution and other evils, just as fully as in its application to the liquor traffic. His remarks in regard to St. Paul's illustrations to Timothy to use a little wine were exceedingly amusing as well as instructive, and completely upset the theory that Paul advised the use of wine as a beverage. The same was true of his remarks in regard to Christ turning water into wine.

The Rev. speaker thought the temperance agitation had done and was doing great good, in support of which proposition, he contrasted the drinking habits of these times with those of fifty years ago. The lecture was listened to throughout, with marked attention, and many of its passages were heartily applauded.

At the conclusion of the lecture, Hon. A. B. Bunn, moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for his valuable and interesting address, which was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. W. S. Crissey, and the meeting dispersed.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Able Speech by Rev. J. Z. Tyler, of Virginia—Interesting Exercises—Resolutions—Children's Meeting, Etc.

On Tuesday evening the convention was addressed by Elder J. Z. Tyler in an able and eloquent speech. The house was crowded to suffocation, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

On Thursday morning the opening exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Hood, Rev. Mr. Waggoner offering prayer, being followed by others.

The first topic discussed was "The relation of the Family to the Sunday School," which was participated in by Geo. F. Wessels, who urged the importance of studying the lesson in the family, and talking it over with the children.

Mr. Carroll also spoke upon this topic, and set forth that while the Sabbath school is the nursery of the Church, the family is the nursery of the school; said he was converted through the instrumentality of pious parents, and testified that there was power in parental influence such as no teacher or preacher can exert. The work of religious training should begin in the family, before children are old enough to go to Sunday school.

Mrs. Villars was the next speaker, and said that the Sunday school separated from the family was shorn of its strength. Rev. Waggoner suggested that the Sunday school worker should supply the place of father and mother, as far as possible, where they neglect their duty.

The next topic discussed was "Temperance in the Sunday School." Mr. Wessels spoke of the great importance of early teaching the young to shun the evils of intemperance.

Mrs. Villars spoke of bringing in the young boys that they may be protected from those who are interested in leading them astray.

At this point the order of exercises changed, and miscellaneous business was taken up.

A special committee reported an amended constitution, which was adopted.

The following resolution offered by J. R. Gorin, Esq., was adopted.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the meetings of the State Sabbath School Convention be held biennially, instead of annually, as at present.

The committee on nominations reported the following as officers for the ensuing year, and they were duly elected:

Capt. J. A. Harris, Decatur, President.
Allen Litsinger, Recording Sec'y.
J. H. Lewis, Statistical Sec'y.
D. M. Barnett, Treas.

VICE PRESIDENTS:
Maroa—J. W. Fawkes.
Austin—George Johnson.
Friends Creek—D. K. Wilson.
Whitmore—O. L. Stuart.
Hickory—Ephraim Bear.
Illini—E. J. Sackett.
Niantic—J. A. Pritchett.
Harrisburg—Rev. J. G. Waggoner.
Decatur—W. T. Wells.
Oakley—Taylor Ross.
Long Creek—J. A. Baker.
Mt. Zion—W. G. Maynes.
Blue Mound—H. A. Pasley.
Wheatland—Wm. T. Beadles.
Pleasant View—N. L. Nichols.
Macon—Wm. Hight.
Milan—James Beard.

The following persons were elected as delegates to the State Sunday School Convention, with power to appoint alternates: W. T. Wells, Rev. J. G. Waggoner, Rev. J. A. Hood, P. C. Carroll, G. F. Wessels, D. K. Wilson, Ira Harris, A. C. Stephens, A. Litsinger, J. N. Crocker.

The committee on resolutions presented one in relation to the great evils of intemperance and the importance of educating the children to temperance principles. Also one recommending the formation of a normal class in all our schools for the purpose of training teachers, which was adopted, as was also another in relation to the importance of religious education at home.

It was also resolved that each weekly paper be requested to publish the proceedings of this convention.

The afternoon session was devoted to a children's meeting, which was opened by singing and prayer by Mrs. Villars, and interesting addresses by Geo. F. Wessels and Rev. J. A. Hood. Mrs. Villars also addressed the children prefacing her remarks with the song, "I am Jesus' little lamb" in which she was joined by the children. Mr. Wessels made some concluding remarks and sang, "Blest be the tie that binds" &c.

A vote of thanks to the people of Macon for their hospitality was unanimously adopted and the convention adjourned.

How to Get Stamina.—Iron frames and strong nervous systems are not the lot of all. But the feeble need not despair. By adopting the right means they may live as long and enjoy life as much as their more robust neighbors. Physical invigoration is, however, necessary to this end; and while the spirituous tonics and nervines usually administered, eventually depress both body and mind, Dr. J. Walker's CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS invariably supply new vigor to the frame, while they regulate every disordered function. 28-4

Important to Boarders.—Ten or twelve regular boarders can be accommodated with board and good rooms at $4.00 per week, at No. 29 West North street. Table board will be furnished for $3.00 per week. May 13-14

Wessels is closing out his summer stock of boots and shoes at greatly reduced prices. He is not selling at cost, but is selling a better article for less money than the cost shoe stores. Call and see for yourself. This is the only way to find out, and don't pay full price for old shop worn goods that are out of style, when you can buy good fashionable goods at a fair price. [aug 14]

A HORSE IN A CISTERN.

About 8 o'clock this morning, a family by the name of Jones, living on Wood street, adjacent to Caldwell's livery stable, were aroused by a racket in the back yard. Perhaps suspecting the presence of burglars, the paternal Jones primed his blunderbuss and then returned to his luxurious couch to smore the happy hours away, with a catnap in his head.

At daylight strange sounds were again borne from the back yard on the startled air; and donning his toilet he walked out to the back yard. A cistern was open. Looking down in it he saw in the dim light what he thought to be a dog. Upon close inspection it proved a horse. The mouth of the cistern was only about two and a half feet square. How the animal got in was a mystery. The circumference of the opening for two inches around was covered with horse hair. It is supposed that the equine fell through with his hind legs first, and gradually settled down. The wedge must have been fearful.

The owner of the animal, Mr. Caldwell, was informed, and a hoisting apparatus obtained. A crowd of spectators were attracted. The horse was shivering in three feet of water. The platform of the cistern was torn away and the water pumped out. After considerable difficulty the horse was at length hoisted out about 7 o'clock. Messrs. Culp and others lent valuable assistance.

The horse, commonly called the "St. Louis brown," was one of the most valuable in the stables. He is an eccentric animal, possessing a peculiar faculty for untying his halter and rambling around at large. It is said that he once got loose, and walking up a steep pair of stairs, began to eat hay in the mow of the stable. That is one of the genial Bob Hodge's best.
